Contents:

1. Introduction
2. Background to the Project
3. The Project: Methods and Organization
   Part II. History and Changes in the Environment
4. Traditional History
5. The Terrestrial Environment before World War II
6. Post-Contact History
   Part III. Artifacts and Faunal Remains
7. Trukese Artifacts
8. Non-Trukese Artifacts
9. Faunal Remains
   Part IV. Archeological Site Reports
10. Excavations in Coastal Iras
11. Excavations in Coastal Mechchitiw
12. Excavations in the Vicinity of the Rock Quarry
13. Excavations on the Upper Slopes and Ridges
   Part V. A View from Tonaachaw: Synthesis and Conclusions
14. Synthesis: Chronology, Settlement and Subsistence Patterns, Social Organization
15. Addressing the Research Topics
   Part VI. The Guns of Tonaachaw: World War II Archeology
   Thomas F. King and James Carucci
16. World War II on Tonaachaw: An Overview

17. Archeological Sites and Features

18. Research Topics in World War II Archeology

   Appendixes

1. Archeological Survey of Piis Iras Islet

2A. Floral Remains

2B. Nonmarine Mollusks from Site TKMO-11, Moen
    Carl C. Christensen

3. Cautionary Note to Future Researchers: Post-Depositional Transport of Midden Material in the Tonaachaw Historic District